Hello everyone,,

I work for a live sound company and a lot of work I do is in the system tech realm. I would love to see what kind of FOH racks you guys have put together. I'm talking about maybe a computer or laptop in a rack with your measurement rig and system processor control/mix switch. I typically bring my SMAART rig and lake control computer in separate pelican cases and assemble onsite. Was wondering if there is an easy rack solution so you can unlid and patch IO and get to work right away.
