I am using Garageband since a long time. I want the sound to be decreased and increased without me modifying it, on a song I recorded on GB. Is there a solution to this?

You can set the volume to increase or decrease on your tracks automatically by enabling the "display main track", which you can locate in the track's menu.

Also, I have been using audacity lately, but I still wish I was able to use Garageband. As windows os doesn't have support for Garageband officially. Do you know any way to run it on windows?
