Hi everyone, this is my first post. Hopefully I'll be here more often....

I've got the opportunity to buy a 2882 2d for a really good price. I just wanted to confirm something very basic before I committed....

Can I run the DSP processing in standalone mode, as long as I have reconfigured before using the computer? Sorry for such a question but I need to be sure! All the evidence I can find online says I can but nothing explicitly confirms this....

Also if I'm buying a used unit, what should I be looking out for? I've read an excellent post about checking the MIO console, but I'm talking more about hardware issues.

I hear that MH offer great support but I can't find any info about out of repair warranty.

Apologies if this is all available info....any advice much appreciated.

Many thanks
