Hey,

I just started using the new session window in pb10 this week and finding it super intuitive and inspiring. This is more of a feature request but one thing that would be amazing in future versions is if the Record Trigger could also be started via Midi Clock (rather than MTC). Ideally the tempo could also be derived from this clock also... I'm often using an external sequencer as my master and can't find a way to convert it's Midi Clock into SMPTE. It would be a really nice way to integrate a lot of electronic sequencers and drum machines with the console!
